

1. Ioannis E. Messinis
2. Professor/Head of Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology
3. Medical School, University of Thessalia, Larissa, Greece

Professor Ioannis E. Messinis, MD, PhD

Professor Ioannis E. Messinis is an Obstetrician and Gynaecologist trained in Athens and Sweden. He worked in Edinburgh and Aberdeen (5 years) in the post of Senior Lecturer. In Greece, he was initially Assistant and then Associate Professor (University of Ioannina) and since 1995 Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (University of Thessalia) in Larissa and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (accredited by EBCOG). He has two MD degrees (Greece) and a PhD (Aberdeen, UK). His research interest is Reproductive Endocrinology. He has authored more than 170 papers in peer review journals and several chapters in books. From 2000-2004, he was an Associate Editor of Human Reproduction. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of several international journals and a regular reviewer in more than 30 international peer review journals. Until recently (2009), he was the president of the Hellenic Society of Obstetrics and Gynaecology and Editor-in-Chief of the Hellenic Journal of Gynaecology and Obstetrics. He is a past member of the Advisory (1998-2002) and the Executive Committees of ESHRE (2001-2005) and currently a member of the Advisory and the Executive Committee of MSRM and the Executive Committee of EBCOG (since 2009).